

Jazz network and Labsystem

Our lab computers are connected to the private network JAZZ, common to other laboratories in the Psychology department. In order to access the network by one of the computer positions in JAZZ you need to register an account. To do so, Ayelet needs to contact Benny and ask him to add you as one of his lab members.

You can access your account, and with all your data, from any position connected to JAZZ, which is amazing. So be sure to ask for an account as soon as you arrive to the LandauLab!

Also, JAZZ labs are on a common web platform for three main scopes:

1. Experiment metadata (participants, machines, softwares)
2. Newsletter for lab meetings, events, news
3. Technical problems

Also, all members' emails and cell numbers are on the platform. The address is www.labsystem.huji.ac.il. Ask Lorenzo to add you to the system and have a quick tutorial.
